

Benefits of Publishing in CCER

Open Access

All proceedings in the CORE and CCER series are Open Access and all visitors of our European Union Digital Library (EUDL) can view and download the full-text PDFs of the proceeding papers. The eBook is freely available for download from the proceedings' page in EUDL for 2 weeks after its publication.

Fairness

EAI's guiding community principles are transparency, objectivity, equality, and openness. The EAI Conference Board evaluates the proceedings proposals objectively, offering equal opportunities to conferences from all over the globe. Additionally, our CCER proceedings series are specifically designed to give visibility to research and innovation from emerging regions and share the knowledge with the world.

Fast publication process

After the EAI Publications Department receives all necessary documents from you, all of your proceeding papers are submitted to our conference management system Confy and in correct templates, it only takes up to 4 weeks for the separate proceedings papers to be published in EUDL. The proceedings in the form of an eBook will be published a few weeks after the publishing of separate papers in EUDL.

Included services

- ISBN and ISSN for the proceedings book
- Unique DOI number for each accepted and published paper
- EUDL – proceedings published with separate papers
- EUDL – proceedings published as an eBook
- Paper editing – small editing changes in source files/PDF

Additional services

- Hard copies of the proceedings
- Paper editing – formatting articles to EAI Templates (DOCX source files needed)
- Paper editing – English language check and correction